Signature Plating Welcomes Zane Leake as Vice President of Sales New Addition Brings Trusted Expertise, Experience to Position

CIBOLO, TEXAS – November 20, 2017 – Signature Plating is pleased to announce Zane Leake has joined the team as vice president of sales. In his new role, Leake will oversee the sales team, seeking out ways to improve existing practices and better serve the company's valued clients.

With more than 30 years of diverse experience, Leake brings a wealth of knowledge to Signature Plating. His past work provided firsthand insight into virtually every aspect of the aviation world, from cleaning and passenger assistance, to management, sales and targeted marketing efforts.

A stellar reputation and willingness to go above and beyond make Leake a true asset to those he serves, Signature Plating President Paul Sahanek said. Leake will continue working with the business aviation professionals with whom he has formed long-term relationships.

"Zane is a true champion for his customers, and he always will be," Sahanek said. "We are extremely excited to have been blessed enough to have him on our team."

Signature Plating Chief Financial Officer Frank McKnight agreed, noting that Leake's professionalism will benefit and enhance existing company practices.

“I have a high degree of respect for Zane. His diligence and drive will complement the entire team and inspire us to be better together,” McKnight explained. “Assuredly he is a great fit for our company, and we truly believe that our company is a great fit for him.”

Leake, who obtained his bachelor’s degree from Florence, S.C.’s Francis Marion University, described his transition to the company as an exciting opportunity. He said he looks forward to representing both Signature Plating and its professionals.

“I’ve known Frank for the past 22 years, both as a competitor and an ally. The company’s dedication to quality and customer service is renowned in the markets that it serves,” Leake explained. “I look forward to working with the team to identify new opportunities and to cultivate their many existing relationships.”
